

Help Us Shape the Future of Patient Safety Research

Would you consider giving healthcare staff and research teams advice on how to conduct research aimed at improving patient safety or the quality of healthcare?

We are looking for people of all ages to share their experiences, insights, and ideas with us. By helping to guide our research, you will ensure that we focus on issues that matter to patients today and make a difference for patients in the future.

Flexible involvement

You can choose how much or how little time you give to us. Your participation could be through online discussions, attending workshops, or reviewing our research plans—you decide what works best for you!

What we offer you

- We value your time: we will cover your travel expenses and pay you for your time.
- Make an impact: your input will directly shape research that improves patient safety and healthcare quality.

Join Us Today and Make a Difference!

For more information or to get involved, please contact:

patientsforresearch@ucl.ac.uk